Rehearsals: First Parish Church, 353 Great
Rd, Stow MA (corner of routes 117 & 620)

Current season details are at back of this handbook (Revised 18 April 2017)

The Sounds of Stow Chorus and Orchestra, a non-profit organization, evolved from a group of people wishing to sing at the town of Stow's annual Springfest event in the 1970's. It has grown from that modest beginning to now provide ambitious choral, orchestral, chamber, ensemble, solo, and other music performances for the entire region.

We are a volunteer SATB (soprano, alto, tenor, bass) group that currently draws its members from over 20 towns in central and eastern Massachusetts. The chorus is open to anyone who can match pitch, learn the music, and contribute to the friendly, supportive atmosphere we strive to maintain; auditions are not required. Principles of good singing and musicianship are realized through weekly rehearsals that are challenging and fun.

The organization receives partial funding from the Fieldstone Foundation through a grant to Stow's Cultural Council, as well as funding in part from the Massachusetts Cultural Council as administered by the local cultural councils of Stow, Bolton, Hudson, and Acton- Boxborough.

Barbara Jones, Artistic Director, a graduate of Wells College and Brown University, has directed the Sounds of Stow Chorus and Orchestra since 1979. She studied choral conducting at Westminster Choir College under Frauke Hassemann, Joseph Flummerfelt, Helmut Rilling and others. Among numerous large choral works she has presented over the years was the first Boston performance in more than a century of the Grand Mass in E-flat by Amy Beach. This performance was acclaimed by the Boston Globe and has been released on CD by Albany Records. Barbara also teaches piano in Stow.

Pauline Oliver, Accompanist, is a pianist, harpsichordist, organist, choral director, singer, and teacher who has served as our weekly accompanist since 2009. She is currently the Music Director and Organist at First Parish in Wayland. She has served as accompanist for several choruses in the area, including Concord Chorus, Master Singers of Lexington, and Harvard Pro Musica. Most recently she was chorusmaster and piano/vocal coach for the Boston Lyric Opera. Polly maintains a piano/vocal studio in her home in Concord.

REHEARSALS

The chorus rehearses Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 in the Fellowship Hall of the First Parish Church in Stow Center (353 Great Road, Stow; corner of routes 117 and 62). There are also two Saturday rehearsals prior to concert date, with the orchestra. Come prepared to take part in an engaging, productive rehearsal: always have a pencil handy to mark your music as suggested by the director, and a water bottle is recommended. If you must miss a rehearsal, please let your section leader know so he or she can let you know what you missed, and because we care about how each member of our community is faring! Choristers are encouraged to wear name badges during rehearsal to promote congeniality within the group.

PLEASE SEE LAST PAGES OF THIS HANDBOOK FOR SPECIAL REHEARSAL SCHEDULES FOR CURRENT SEASON.

PERFORMANCES

We perform three concerts a year. Fall (November) and Winter (March) concerts are performed on a Sunday at the Hale Middle School Auditorium in Stow, a proscenium theater with stadium seating, at 55 Hartley Road. We perform with a full orchestra and in formal concert dress. For Fall & Winter, the format is typically, but not always, a composition performed by the orchestra without chorus, then intermission followed by the choral piece. There is a reception for members and audience after the concert in the school. The Spring concert (May) is a lighter, more informal event held at First Parish Church, during the Town of Stow's Springfest Weekend.

Dues

Dues are set annually by the Board and are paid by members once for the entire year, whether you plan to participate in one, two, or all three of the concerts. Dues for 2016/17: $50

CONCERT FEES

In addition to the one-time Dues, a concert fee is charged for each performance you participate in. This fee covers the cost of the member's scores PLUS helps a little to defray other costs necessary to put on the concert, such as soloist's fees, rental of the performance and rehearsal space, etc. The concert fee must be paid before you take any scores with you after the first rehearsal for that concert. You will have the opportunity to pay dues & concert fee, and collect your scores, at several rehearsals at the beginning of each season.

2016/17: $55 per concert

Financial Assistance: Need-based scholarships and grants are available to those who wish to sing with us but require financial assistance. Grants are made in confidence, and we encourage those who need one to inquire. We do not want to turn away anyone from singing merely for lack of funds.

Please direct inquiries to the chorus President (see Directory at end of this Handbook for contact information).

We offer half-price dues and fees to currently-enrolled students.

MEMBERSHIP PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

The business of running the chorus and putting on performances is accomplished by the participation of members who volunteer their time and efforts. Our annual budget to put on three concerts is approximately $40,000. We discuss administrative and budget issues at open Board meetings approximately once a month. Meeting times and location are announced in rehearsal. ALL choristers are invited and encouraged to come to any meeting. We always benefit from fresh ideas and views. We need your help – please make an effort to attend a meeting and share your ideas, for “many hands make light work”! You’ll have fun, make new friends, and learn a lot about the chorus and orchestra.

Each year, we must raise funds to pay our costs, such as rental fees for the rehearsal and performance spaces, accompanist’s weekly fees, soloists’ fees, printing costs of program, graphic designer's fees, liability insurance (required), fees associated with the orchestral accompaniment, etc. Dues and concert fees only partially cover those costs. Expenses and income are discussed at Board meetings. All members are expected to help raise funds, especially by soliciting advertisements for the concert program, or making a personal donation in lieu thereof; and by selling tickets to the performances.

FUNDRAISING

Advertisements: We sell advertisements to our program during the fall, prior to our November concert. These ads will also run in the Winter concert program. Forms for choristers to use when requesting merchants and service providers to purchase ads for the program are distributed in September by email and at rehearsal; one is at the end of this handbook for your convenience.

Donations: Some members, in lieu of soliciting an ad, prefer to make a donation in an amount equal to at least one advertisement. All donors are acknowledged by name in the program, either under our "Contributors" page or on the "Commemorative Gifts" page should you wish to honor a loved one or celebrate a milestone with a gift to the Sounds of Stow. Donors may also contribute to the Ernest Goldman Legacy Fund. Ernest Goldman (1913-2014) was a co-founder of the chorus and its accompanist as well as a performer for several decades. Donations may be made via Paypal on the chorus website or by using the forms available at the sign-in table during rehearsals and in our concert programs.

Ticket sales: Each member is asked to pre-sell four tickets to the Fall and Winter concert. Four numbered tickets are distributed to each member a few weeks before each concert. Look for the envelope with your name on it, in the array by the sign-in table, or see Beth Bennett (soprano). (She may see you first!) Please return ticket money and remaining unsold tickets to Beth by the Saturday dress rehearsal before the concert.

Silent Auction 2016

For the fourth consecutive year, Sounds of Stow will hold a Silent Auction during our November 2016 Concert. This is our largest fundraiser! Audience and SoS members are invited to view and to bid on items before the concert, during intermission, and during our post-concert reception.

The Chorus & Orchestra members are asked to donate or solicit items from area businesses, retailers, or arts organizations. Past items have included a Bose Wave radio, vacation home getaways, firewood, gift baskets, concert tickets, wine, jewelry, paintings, and gift certificates.

Susan Johnson, chorus member and Silent Auction chairperson, will provide more information at rehearsals.

VOLUNTEER SIGN UP

Each chorister is asked to join in the fun and excitement of putting on our concerts by signing up for a “job” so we can spread out the work fairly. A sign up sheet will be distributed at the beginning of the season. There are small tasks like bringing some refreshments to a Saturday rehearsal, posting some flyers in your town, purchasing flowers for soloists, etc. (you will be reimbursed, or you can designate it as a donation). Or, if you have talents like graphic design, stage management, web design, producing an E-newsletter, etc., there is a need for your help ! Ask any members of the board, or Barbara Jones (Director) or your section leader for further information.
